

XM satellite radio has changed my life. I actually enjoy listening to the radio again. Up until the introduction of XM radio I listened to CD's only. Regular broadcast radio is so 20th century and BORING and who can stand listening to one song for every five commercials. I can't wait for XM to complete their weather and traffic coverage that would be real-time, not every 30 to 60 minutes like standard broadcast radio. Don't squash XM's progress to provide listeners with needed up to the minute information like traffic and weather. I've been looking forward to my city being added to the program line-up for months now, don't take that away from me. I'll never listen to regular broadcast radio again, thanks XM!
